The challenges, problem-solving, and arduous tasks of the practice of law have some lawyers hiding under their desks, but Andrew Stubbs is not; he's out trekking through the jungle of paperwork and research finding his clients real, effective solutions. Personable and honest, Andrew offers strong relationships to his clients and is always ready to put in the long hours in order to best serve them, including collaborating with his coworkers. Team work is a strong part of Andrew's work ethic, as he believes another set of eyes and mind can benefit even the most experienced attorney. With Andrew, clients can find the same attributes that he possesses in a barbeque competition or a Crossfit challenge: focus and commitment.
