With a deep desire to help others and a long-time appreciation of legal thrillers, Chandler is the perfect combination of compassion and drive that clients need. No stranger to innovation and hard work, Chandler's experience as the founding member of Step Into Law, an educational program for undergraduate students interested in law, and his experience gained during his internship in South Africa give him a valuable and unique perspective that clients can appreciate. He believes in the power of listening, and uses what he learns to bring a positive approach to solving problems. Knowing that his clients put their faith in him every day drives Chandler to soak up as much knowledge as possible and find creative solutions for their businesses.
