

FormanWatkins Welcomes Siara N. Haas as Associate Attorney

FormanWatkins is pleased to announce the addition of Siara N. Haas as an associate attorney in the Houston office.

Siara earned her J.D. from the University of Houston Law Center, where she served as Head Senior Articles Editor for the Houston Journal of Health Law and Policy. She received her Bachelor of Science in Political Science, magna cum laude, from Lamar University.

Siara focuses her practice on complex civil litigation and insurance defense, with experience in personal injury, product liability, premises liability, and commercial disputes. She combines strong analytical and writing skills with practical litigation judgment. She identifies the issues that matter most and develops defense strategies designed to resolve claims through motion practice and negotiated settlements.

“Siara’s approach reflects careful evaluation, clear judgment, and a focus on helping clients understand the risks and strategy behind their cases,” said Win Gault, Partner at FormanWatkins. “That mindset is invaluable when navigating complex disputes.”

Prior to joining FormanWatkins, Siara worked with several Texas-based defense firms where she handled a wide range of diverse matters. She also served as an Adjunct Professor of Moot Court at Lamar University and completed a federal judicial internship with the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas.
