

Mississippi Business Journal Recognizes Jennifer Studebaker as Leading Business Woman

Forman Watkins & Krutz LLP congratulates Partner, Jennifer M. Studebaker, for being selected for the 2018 Class of the Mississippi Business Journal's 50 Leading Business Women in Mississippi. The Mississippi Business Journal honors women who are powerful, influential business leaders in Mississippi. As senior decision-makers, this group of Leading Business Women is making a significant impact on the economy of our state, local businesses, and communities.

Jennifer Studebaker is a dedicated litigation team leader with extensive trial experience. Prior to joining the firm, Jennifer fine-tuned her trial advocacy skills as an assistant district attorney, and successfully prosecuted hundreds of cases ranging from drug offenses to capital murder cases. In the 15+ years that she has been at the Firm, Jennifer has represented multiple clients involved in mass tort litigation, including asbestos, silica, welding rod and other toxic exposure claims.
