Sonya Dickson believes practicing law is an art form to be mastered with creative analysis and a commitment to excellence. As a former competitive ice skater, she knows what it takes to win. Clients need someone who cares deeply about building strong personal relationships and working hard to represent them well. Complex questions don't weigh on Sonya; they motivate her, fueling her innate drive to achieve success. Sonya comes to the firm after a U.S. federal district court clerkship and is dedicated to developing close relationships and working as a team with her firm colleagues to ensure clients' needs are not only met but exceeded.
